Scribes Plan Next Parley For Gonzaga

The fourth annual Catholic Press Conference for high schools and colleges of the Archdioceses of Baltimore and Washington is scheduled for February 22, at Gonzaga High School, Washington, D. C.

Open to moderators and staffs of all Catholic school publications, the conference will begin at 10:15 with an address on "Radio Reporting vs. Newspaper Reporting" by Bill Costello, Washington Correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Sectional Meetings Follow

The general questions of News, Make-up, Editorials, Interviews, Advertising, Yearbook, Style Books and Teaching Journalism will be discussed in the several sectional meetings which will follow the general assembly.

Journalists Scheduled

Robert Hiltz, Editor-in-Chief of THE GREYHOUND and author of The Greyhound Handbook, will address a joint session on the subject, "Get the Know-How with a Style Book". "Biographical Background of Self; Opportunities for Journalists", is the topic of Mr. Charles T. Lucey, Washington Correspondent of the Scripps Howard Newspapers. Mr. Lucey will speak to the general afternoon session.

After the sectional meetings, lunch will be served to the delegates. The entire conference will end with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Last year's Catholic Press Conference was held on Washington's Birthday at Notre Dame of Maryland College.

Review Course Given For Vets

"Many requests which we have received from servicemen have made me realize the necessity and desirability of including a refresher course in the curriculum of Loyola", revealed the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola.

Accordingly, a newly inaugurated refresher course will begin here on Monday, February 18, for ex-servicemen. The course will extend for three months and will end on May 16. No college credits will be given.

Veterans taking the course will have five class days each week. Only two courses will be given, one in Mathematics and one in English. Each class lasts ninety minutes.

Mr. John B. Higinbotham will instruct the math class while Mr. P. Edward Kaltenbach is professor of English for the course.

Any veteran who wishes to go to college but at the present time is unable to pass the entrance exams, is eligible to apply for admission to the course.

'Harvard Report' Will Be Topic Of Evening Seminar

"The Harvard Report on General Education" is to be the topic of the third Evening School Seminar tonight in the Library at Evergreen. The Dean of the Evening School, the Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., will present the exposition on the Harvard Report at 8:00 p. m.

Father Wise announces that the seminars will be resumed in April with "The Marshall Report on World War II".

Hires Permanent, Full Time Secretary; Dr. Doehler Supervises Office Set-Up

To unify the increased Alumni activity, Loyola College's Alumni Association has opened an Alumni office on the campus of Evergreen and has hired a full time permanent secretary.

Dr. Edward A. Doehler, '30, is temporarily supervising the set-up of the office. Miss Audrey Ferree is the permanent Alumni Secretary.

Office In Science Bldg.

Located on the first floor of the science building, the new Alumni office will be open only part time, from 1 o'clock till 5, for the first month. Thereafter the office will be open daily from 9 till 5, with office hours listed as 9 till 12 on Saturday.

Until an Alumni phone is installed, the office can be reached by dialing CH. 1020, Loyola College switchboard.

Secretary Needed For Expansion

Explaining the motive of the newly created project, Mr. Anselm Sodaro, president of the Alumni Association, stated, "The employment of a full time secretary by the Executive Committee was essential to the operation of recently adopted plans of further expanding Alumni activities."

"Furthermore, a full time secretary and a permanent Alumni office are necessary to cope with the expected increase in membership caused by the return of many veterans and by the addition of new fields of study in the day and evening schools."

Complete Alumni Roster

With its complete, up-to-date Alumni file of all who have ever attended Loyola College, the office will have all possible information on each Alumnus. This file will include names, addresses, phone numbers, references, professions and information on the lives of the Alumni.

To Publish Alumni Directory

"Through the office," pointed out Mr. Sodaro, "an Alumni Directory (Continued on page 8, col. 3)"

Following the session, refreshments will be served in the Oak Room of the Library Building.

Senator Myers To Be Guest Speaker For Alumni's Banquet On February 21

Lalley Discusses Needs Of Home

At the third annual Youth Session of the National Catholic Conference on Family Life last Friday, February 8, Thomas L. Lalley, Loyola's National Federation of Catholic College Students representative, delivered a paper on "The Relation of the State to the Economic Needs of the Family as defined in the Papal Encyclicals".

Joining Lalley in the discussion on the general topic for the morning, "The College Student—The Family and Money", were delegates from Johns Hopkins University, Howard University, Catholic University and Villa Marie College.

In the afternoon, representatives of other Eastern colleges spoke on "The College Student and Family Interests".

The next meeting of the regional NFCCS conference will be on March 4 at Dunbarton College. The meeting will be partially devoted to the discussion and final adoption of an original one act play contest.

Mr. Lingard I. Whiteford

Honorable Francis J. Myers, Democratic Senator from Pennsylvania, will be guest speaker at the Annual Banquet of the Loyola College Alumni Association on Thursday night, February 21, 1946. The banquet will be held in the main ballroom of the Belvedere Hotel at 6:30 p. m. The cover per plate is $4.00.

Not only the Alumni, but also members of the Senior class will attend the banquet. The prospective graduates of the class of 1946 decided upon this arrangement because of the small number of students in their class.

Toastmaster for the occasion is Isaac S. ("Ike") George, '01, former president of the Alumni Association in 1930 and now Executive Secretary of the St. Vincent de Paul Society throughout the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Mr. Lingard I. Whiteford, '27, is serving again this year as chairman of the Banquet Committee. Mr. Whiteford is a member of the executive committee of the Association.

"Welcome Home" Banquet

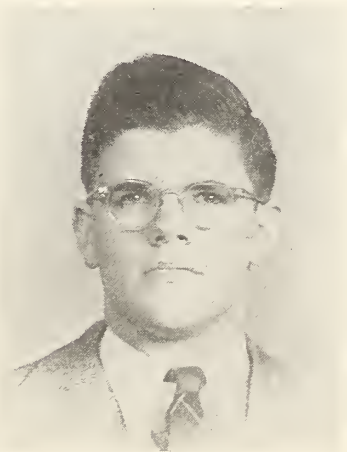

Emphasized Mr. Whiteford, "This year our banquet will be a welcoming home gathering for the many Loyola servicemen who have returned from the fighting fronts."

Two graduates of the class of '17 will be among the guests of honor. They are the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola College, and the Honorable Herbert R. O'Connor, Governor of Maryland.

David Meggison and Felix Posen, representing JHU's Debating Council, will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free world trade among the nations of the world".

Enoch, Rayner From Loyola

Arguing on the affirmative of the question are John T. Enoch and Albert T. Rayner, Bellarmine Debaters from Evergreen.

Chairman for the contest is Thomas L. Lalley, president of the Debating Society at Loyola.

Second Hopkins Debate

Today's contest will mark the second display of rivalry between the two schools, Loyola having journeyed to Hopkins on December 17, 1945, for a non-decision debate.

Mr. Lalley is contacting other colleges and universities in an endeavor to line up other home and home contests for the rest of the year.

Thirteen Publication Years 1933-1946 -- Ten Advisers

The fifth moderator of THE GREYHOUND, Mr. Francis X. Flood, S. J., came to Loyola as Biology professor and Moderator in the Autumn of 1933. He had entered the Society of Jesus at the St. Andrew-on-Hudson Novitiate, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and had completed his philosophical studies at Woodstock College. He remained here for only one year. In 1934, he was transferred to Canisius College, Buffalo, where he completed his period as a regent. Shortly after ordination at

5th Moderator

Rev. Francis W. O'Hara, S. J.

Woodstock, Fr. Flood returned to Canisius where, in addition to his Biology courses, he is moderator of the Mendel Club.

Now On Jesuit Magazine

Mr. Stephen X. Winters, S. J., the next Moderator, had also entered the Society at Poughkeepsie but completed his philosophy at Oxford University, England. In 1932, he taught English at Fordham University but came to Loyola the next year. He did not moderate the paper in his first year but had charge of THE GREYHOUND during the 1934-1935 school year. Fr. Winters was afterwards ordained at Woodstock and then returned to Fordham. He was assigned the next year to the Messenger of the Sacred Heart, the well known Jesuit monthly.

In 1935 and 1936, for the first time in the history of THE GREYHOUND, two Moderators collaborated in the supervision. They were the Messrs. Joseph C. Kelley, S. J., and Vincent P. McCorry, S. J. Mr. Kelley had previously studied philosophy with Mr. McCorry at Weston

Kemp Lectures On Marine Life

The "Fish of the Chesapeake Bay" will be dissected at the next meeting of the Mendel Club on February 19. Mr. Richard C. Kemp, Jr., Ichthyologist of the Biological organization, will wield the verbal scalpel in the third of this year's senior thesis-lecture series.

Mr. Kemp plans to enumerate the characteristics of the approximately thirty-five types of fish which find habitation in the Chesapeake. He will also give a brief account of the breeding and living habits of these fish.

Joseph B. Bronushas, of the senior year, delivered an address on "Malaria" at the previous meeting on January 30.

Two other lectures by Edward M. Rehak on "Vitamins" and by E. Paul Coffay, Jr., on "Anti-Bodies" were given last semester.

College, Mass. They relinquished their moderatorship in their last year here. After studies at Woodstock, both were ordained on the same day. In 1943, Fr. McCorry was assigned to Canisius College where he founded the West New York Sodality Union Conference. He is now stationed as a retreat master at Mount Manresa on Staten Island. Fr. Kelley is currently professor of English at the St. Andrew's Novitiate.

Moderator Died Here

Perhaps most distinguished of all moderators was the Rev. Augustus P. Fremgen, S. J. Fr. Fremgen was born at Hermersberg, Germany, in 1880. He came to this country as a young child and entered the Society at the old Novitiate of St. John the Evangelist, Frederick, Md.

13th Moderator

Rev. Paul J. Gibbons, S. J.

Fr. Fremgen was ordained at Woodstock in 1913. He was stationed at Canisius, St. Andrew, Canisius once more, and Brooklyn College. For twelve years, Fr. Fremgen remained at Fordham as editor of The Fordham Monthly. In 1931, he resigned his editorship but continued to remain at Fordham until assigned here in the Fall of 1937. He remained here as Moderator until 1940. In January of that year, Fr. Fremgen fell ill and gradually declined in health, dying on March 4, 1940.

Mr. Devlin Assumes Post

To succeed Fr. Fremgen in supervising the remaining issues of that year, Mr. William J. Devlin, S. J., was chosen from the Faculty. Mr. Devlin had previously studied at Woodstock College and St. Louis University. He remained here in 1941 until he returned to Woodstock for further study. Fr. Devlin was ordained at Woodstock and is now a professor of Philosophy there.

The Rev. William F. Maloney, S. J., followed Mr. Devlin as Moderator. Fr. Maloney had spent his regentship at Loyola High School and had been ordained in 1940. Fr. Maloney retained moderatorship for one year and then resigned to become Minister of the community and later Treasurer of the College. Last Fall, Fr. Maloney was shifted to Georgetown Preparatory School where he assumed the position of Rector.

Fr. Gibbons At Woodstock

As the thirteenth Moderator, the Rev. Paul J. Gibbons, S. J., supervised the paper for three years. He had previously studied Philosophy and Theology at Woodstock and was ordained there. Last year, Fr. Gibbons was transferred to the post of Minister of Theologians at Woodstock.

The present Moderator is Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J.

Fr. Hubbard Reports Atrocities To Jesuit Priests Of Germany

Martyrdom due to Nazi persecution was the fate of hundreds of Jesuit priests in the Reich war zone. Herded into concentration camps, innumerable Fathers were victims of unspeakable atrocities.

The Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S. J., now making a survey of the war-torn countries of Europe in the interest of the Society of Jesus, has made a preliminary report which needs no elaboration in its graphic description of the suffering and trials of his brother Jesuits during the war period.

No Jesuit Quislings

Prefacing the report, Father Hubbard points out "that not one Jesuit of the few thousand in Germany and Austria defected to the Nazi party. All considered it an honor to be put in concentration camps, to suffer imprisonment and even death."

Father Hubbard obtained official governmental approval for the tour. He was selected by the Order as the most qualified Jesuit to make the survey because of the many years he has spent in scientific research, exploring the wilds of Alaska. He is belovedly known as "the Glacier priest."

Specific Atrocities Cited

"Many Jesuits were in Dachau and other notorious camps from one to five years. Many died as the result of their sufferings.

"Fathers Grimm, Delp and Steinmaier were particularly heroic. Because they preached against the paganistic ideology of Nazism they were beheaded after trial in the notorious Nazi People's Court. Father Schwingshakel, condemned to be beheaded, died in prison before the sentence was executed.

Betrayal By False Convert

"Father Steinmaier was a fellow classmate of mine in Innsbruck when I studied theology there from 1921 to 1925. He was doing his spiritual work in Innsbruck secretly. All had to live in disguise.

"A young German soldier came to Father Steinmaier professing detestation for the Nazi doctrines and a wish to receive instruction to become a Catholic.

"Father Steinmaier recognizing the zeal gave the young man all the time he wished. After a few weeks

Two outstanding Catholic educators, the Rev. Gerald G. Walsh, S. J., of Fordham University, and Dr. Charles C. Night Courses Show Increase

Although five fewer students are enrolled in the January semester of the Evening School of Adult Education than in the September semester, latest statistics indicate that more courses are being taken by the 161 students enrolled. 302 courses are being taken now, as compared with 251 courses in the first term.

Nineteen different subjects were offered in the September catalogue, of which sixteen were given. Against this number, twenty-two titles were listed in the enlarged January semester and twenty-one are now being offered.

Of the 161 students enrolled in the Evening School, twenty-three are day school students who are augmenting their day classes.

The Night School has moved to an office adjacent to the Treasurer's.

Although the original announcement of the lectures stated that the entire series would cost five dollars, it was recently revealed that there will be no charge for the course.

"All lectures will be open to the public", announces the Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., Dean of the Evening School at Loyola.

Walsh Speaks On Dante

Father Walsh, the first speaker, will deliver his initial lecture on "Dante and the Problem of Personal Peace". Thereafter, on March 10 and on March 17, Fr. Walsh will speak on "Dante and the Problem of Political Peace" and "Poet of Eternal Peace".

Editor of the Fordham quarterly publication Thought, Fr. Walsh has recently returned from Boston where he delivered the famous Lowell Lectures at Harvard University. Fr. Walsh has made Dante his lifelong interest and prime field of study.

Dr. Tansill From Georgetown

Dr. Tansill, who teaches American History at Georgetown, will deliver the final trio of lectures on March 24, 31 and April 7. His topics will be "The Rise of Anglo-American Friendship", "Russian American Relations Since 1900" and "A Foreign Policy for Today".

In addition to his professorial and lecture work, Dr. Tansill is the author of America Goes to War and several other books.

"A Greater Loyola"

Though the present executive committee of the Alumni Association has undertaken many splendid, far-seeing ventures, still its most recent move—the creation of an Alumni Office on the Campus of Loyola and the hiring of a permanent Alumni Secretary—augurs for more success and stability than has ever been achieved among the ranks of Loyola graduates.

Two purposes are bound to be accomplished, namely, unity of Alumni activities and expansion of the Alumni scope of activity.

Both were absolute necessities at this time!

Through no fault of its own, the Alumni Association had become disunited with the advent of World War II. Alumni were flung to far corners of the world, and although moral bounds with Loyola may have been strengthened, still the physical element of distance prevented concerted action. Yet, withal, it was the very strengthening of those moral bonds that has enabled such conscientious leaders as Mr. Sodaro, Alumni President, and his able associates to undertake the one enterprise that purported to gather within one fold Loyola's scattered Alumni.

Regarding expansion of Alumni scope of operation, the office could not have come at a more opportune period. The fact is that, even without the Alumni office or any unified plan, various groups within the Alumni were, upon their own initiative, banding together for their common interests. Such Alumni leaders as Dr. Frank J. Ayd, Jr., '42, Mr. Carl F. Gottschalk, '41 and Mr. Francis B. Burch, '41 had come forth to form the Physicians Group and Loyola Law Club. Nor do we forget the steps being taken by members of The Greyhound Press Club and Alpha Sigma Nu to resurrect Alumni interest in these activities. However, there was the latent danger that the parts would become greater than the whole, and from this standpoint nothing could be more welcome than a central Alumni Office.

The wealth of information the office purposes to collect would alone justify its worth. Who can deny that penetrating results will come from the work of such a loyal Loyolalumnus as Dr. Edward A. Doehler? We await eagerly the publication of the first Alumni Directory.

Noting, therefore, the Alumni unity and expansion bound to follow from the Alumni Office and permanent secretary, we must not forget to pay tribute to the capable Alumni leaders who have made this undertaking possible.

To Mr. Sodaro, Mr. Egan, Dr. Otcenasek, Mr. Conlon, Mr. Gottschalk, Mr. Muth, Mr. Whiteford, Mr. Farrell and Dr. Doehler, we extend gratitude and appreciation. Both Alumni and Students of Loyola, as well as members of the Faculty, can be truly grateful to these men for their foresight and action in setting up this office.

THE GREYHOUND pledges full co-operation to any endeavor the Office and Executive Committee undertakes. Clearly we can see, as Mr. Sodaro expressed it, the Alumni Office's magnificent contribution to "a greater Loyola".

The Reader's Right Tim Parr From Saipan

Saipan Islands,
January 7, 1946.

To The Editor of THE GREYHOUND
Hello Bob,

I received a package from home the other day, and upon opening it I found enclosed two copies of THE GREYHOUND. These are the first I have seen since I visited you last October. It was really swell to get some news from the old Alma Mater.

I left San Francisco on Saturday, November 3, on an APA (troop transport), and after fifteen days at sea, our ship sailed into Apra Harbor in Guam on Sunday, November 18. All of us officers (twenty-three of us) went ashore and took temporary quarters in a tent in the Receiving Station. After three days there, I boarded a P.C. (Patrol Craft), and sailed the 120 miles north of Guam to Saipan. What a trip that was. It rained about ten different times, and since a P.C. is rather small, we had to stay out on the deck, as there wasn't enough room inside for all of us. The rains came and myself and baggage were soaked many times. Such is life in the tropics.

The Island of Saipan is what you might call a tropical paradise. It is fifteen miles long, eight miles wide. To encircle it is forty-two miles. The land by the water is flat, but it is very mountainous in the interior. Dense jungle covers the hillsides and they are dotted with caves which offer homes for the Japs still at large on the island. At the extreme northern tip of the island are the famous suicide cliffs. Here the Japs forced several thousand natives of this island to jump to their deaths.

My home is a tin hut occupied by two other officers and myself. It is situated on a crest of a hill overlooking the harbor. There is also a swell Officers Club on the Naval Base. I have a jeep of my own, too.

The harbor here isn't too good. There are quite a few coral reefs off shore that make navigation unsafe. The beaches around the island are strewn with wrecked Jap landing craft, symbolizing the bitter struggle to retake this island.

I am working as Communications Officer in the Port Director's Office. It is my job to communicate all troop movements, ship sailings and cargo sailings.

The aircraft carrier Boxer is here now, and Jim Lacy is aboard. Hope to get to see him.

Will close now, hoping to see you within the next couple of months.

Sincerely,

Ensign Frank T. Parr, USNR, Ex. '45.

War-time Mission in Spain by Carlton J. H. Hayes

After United States ambassadors have submitted their resignations and are temporarily retired, they usually begin to compile lengthy, and usually soporific memoirs of their terms abroad. In these reminiscences an ambassador will feel it his duty to individually mention and praise every member of the Embassy Staff, he will pay tribute to the wisdom of the particular Foreign Office with which he worked, and, if he is a career diplomat, he will fill his book with obtrusive and reverent eulogies of the State Department and all its works. Mr. Hayes, our recent ambassador to Spain, but a historian by profession, (Political and Cultural History of Modern Europe), has written his book on much the same lines.

Despite this stuffy conformity, Mr. Hayes has cleared up the important but somewhat confused position which Spain has occupied during the war. He gives a competent history of Spanish wartime foreign relations. The "hands off" policy which the author adopted unfortunately prevented him from dealing with Spanish internal problems. A historian of Mr. Hayes' caliber might have determined the real attitude of the people of Spain toward their Falangist rulers.

When the first edition of the War-time Mission in Spain was suddenly exhausted by public demand, the cry went up that it was being suppressed because it is favorable to the Franco regime. Mr. Hayes makes no statement that would demand such action on the part of Loyalist sympathizers. It is true that Mr. Hayes, contrary to most opinion, believes that Franco's policy has always been as favorable to the United States as possible. He also maintains that the Franco regime is best for the country because it has prevented any more outbreaks of civil war. In his last, and most conclusive chapter, Mr. Hayes mildly points out that if the UNO feels it incumbent upon it to regulate the internal affairs of nations, it might just as well start with several offenders who have priority, such as the Latin America dictatorships and Russia.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Alumnus Appointed Circuit Judge

Since the last issue of THE GREYHOUND, an Alumnus has been honored by an appointment to an important judicial post. William J. McWilliams '26, is now Circuit Judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit of Maryland, including Carroll, Howard and Anne Arundel Counties. Judge McWilliams fills the vacancy created by the death of the late Hon. Ridgely P. Melvin, Chief Judge of the Circuit.

Prior to his appointment, Judge McWilliams served as Secretary of State for the State of Maryland under an appointment made by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor. Judge McWilliams was also the President of the Anne Arundel County Bar Association.

Additional Clerical Appointment

Lack of space in the last issue prevented publication of the complete list of Loyola Alumni who had been assigned to new posts among the Diocesan Clergy.

Rt. Rev. F. Joseph Manns, D. D., Class of '24, comes from the Basilica of The Assumption to take the post of Pastor of St. Katherine's Church in Baltimore. Monsignor Manns previously held the position of Vice-Chancellor and has now been named Officialis of the Tribunal.

Rev. William J. Sweeney, Class of '22, previously Assistant under Most Rev. John M. McNamara, D. D., at St. Gabriel's Church, Grant Circle, Washington, comes to the Baltimore Archdiocese to assume the pastorate of St. Ursula's Church, Parkville.

Alumni Wedding

Wedding bells have rung for quite a few members of the Association in recent weeks. Again, space permits us only a brief announcement and hearty congratulations.

Charles Reis, '43, married Miss Maureen Lucina Kilcullen, of New York City. Ensign William S. Bavis, '44, was married to Miss Mary Clare Appelby, of Mount Washington. On the same day, December 27, 1945, Lt. (j.g.) Frank Feild, '43, was married to Miss Nancy Sehlstedt. Emil (Lefty) Reitz, Jr., Athletic Director at Loyola, had charge of the ring at Frank's wedding, and did not fumble. Lt. (j.g.) S. Lawrence Scharff, '43, was married recently to Miss Gloria Primavera of Pittsburgh. Another Navy officer, Lt. (j.g.) John E. Boerner, '43, chose as his bride Miss Florence De Sales Bennett, of Baltimore. Most recent among the Alumni weddings was that of Donald P. Litz, ex. '42, to Miss Anne W. Galvin on February 2, at St. Mary's Church, Govans.

Alumnus Receives Croix De Guerre

Lt. Col. Robert L. Slingluff, '29, is back in civilian life again and has resumed his former practice of law in Maryland. In the years that he spent in the service of the country, he has gathered quite a collection of decorations. The most important of these, the Croix de Guerre with Gold Star, was conferred on Lt. Col. Slingluff by General Juin, Chief of Staff of the French Army in recognition of work done in effecting the evacuation of over 50,000 Allied prisoners of war in the course of the invasion of Germany.

Alumni Professional Men

The Editor has recently been informed that Dr. Frank J. Ayd, Jr., '42, has had the opportunity to present a suspected case of renal osteodystrophy before the Pediatric Conference at the Harriet Lane Clinic of The Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Clothes Drive In Progress

To provide food and clothing for the suffering peoples in Europe, the Sodality of Loyola College is conducting a drive for old clothes and canned goods.

Five sodalists were appointed at the January 31 business meeting to take charge of the drive in each class. They are: Joseph B. Bronushas, Senior; Morgan Mattingly, Junior; George Buchness, Sophomore; Vincent T. McGuinness, Sophomore B; and Philip Lohrey, September Freshmen.

Food and apparel should be brought to the office of the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J., moderator of the Sodality and Student Counsellor.

E. Paul Coffay, Jr., prefect of the Sodality, urged the sodalists to scour their homes for clothing and bring it in at once. The items received are to be forwarded to Europe as soon as shipping space permits.

Pep rallies were conducted in the cafeteria to stir up student enthusiasm for the drive.

Father Higgins Edits Book On 'Social Ethics'

Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J.

With the recent publication of his book, Social Ethics, the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J., completes his trilogy on Ethics. He has been working on this project since his arrival at Loyola in 1939.

Previously, Fr. Higgins had published General Ethics and Special Ethics. After further revision, he intends to incorporate all three works into one volume, Man As Man.

President Of St. Joseph's

Fr. Higgins entered the Society of Jesus at the St. Andrew-on-Hudson Novitiate in 1915. As a scholastic, he taught at Boston College. After his ordination at Woodstock College, where he received his doctorate in Philosophy, Fr. Higgins was sent to St. Joseph's College.

At St. Joseph's, he served first as professor of Ethics and Dean of Discipline, then as Dean of Studies, and finally as President of the College until his transfer here.

Seniors Using New Book

The publication of Fr. Higgins' book was timed to form the last portion of the Ethics lectures now being given to the Senior Class. The entire manuscript was published at Loyola College under the direction of Mr. Joseph A. Seller, S.J.

Fr. Higgins is also Student Counsellor, Moderator of the Alumni Association and of the Sodality, as well as being Moderator of the Sodality Union of Baltimore.

Accounting Laboratory Offers Practical Study For Students

"As a step in the expansion of the Accounting department in the Day School, we are now in the process of outfitting what will be equivalent to an Accounting Laboratory", recently declared Mr. Rudolph A. Doering, S.J., professor of Accounting.

In Science Building

"Just as Biology, Physics and Chemistry have their laboratory periods in which the student can familiarize himself with the actual objects of his study, so, the Accounting student will be taught in an atmosphere which is similar to the modern business office", Mr. Doering continued.

The Accountants are now located in Room 2S of the Science Building.

Offers Two Courses

The Accounting Department moved into its new quarters last February 4. Mr. Doering has already secured adding machines and accounting graphs.

Courses in First and Second Year Basic Accounting are now being offered. Additional lectures in Cost Accounting, Auditing, Taxes and Accounting Systems are also planned.

Sodalists Greet J.H.U., Goucher

Welcome, Johns Hopkins and Goucher!

At the Valentine Dance this evening, the Baltimore College Sodality Union will welcome back the Newman Club of Johns Hopkins University and will enroll the Newman Club of Goucher College for the first time.

Dance Informal

The Valentine Dance will be presented in the Loyola College Gymnasium from 9 till 1. Admission is $1.80 per couple and the dance is to be informal.

Chairman of the Dance Committee is Jack Sweeney, of Loyola College. Patricia Walsh and Anne Diver, of Mt. St. Agnes, Patricia Elly, of Notre Dame, and Bill Connolly, of Loyola, are assisting Mr. Sweeney with arrangements.

Volunteers To Decorate

Volunteers from the three colleges have been busy preparing for the decorations under the leadership of Mary Wintz, Prefect of Notre Dame's Sodality.

Proceeds from the dance are to sponsor a new project the Union wishes to undertake.

To Help Social Clubs

This project, discussed at a previous meeting of the Sodality Union on January 15 at Mt. St. Agnes, proposes that the Union start social clubs in parishes which do not have them and also reactivate other clubs which are not functioning.

In organizing these social clubs, the Sodality would work in conjunction with the Catholic Council of Social Clubs in Baltimore.

Committee Appointed

To study the possibilities of this project and any difficulties that might arise in putting it into operation, a committee of three comprises Mary Elizabeth von Rinteln, of Notre Dame, Dorothy Offutt, of Mt. St. Agnes, and Thomas L. Lalley.

The project will be acted upon definitely as soon as the Sodality knows how far their expenses will permit them to go.

Three Additions To L.C. Faculty

Three recent additions to the Faculty of the College are Mr. Vincent P. Colimore, Mr. John G. Herzer, and Mr. John B. Higinbotham.

Recently discharged from the United States Army, Mr. Colimore, new professor of Elementary and Advanced French, received his A. B. degree before his induction, and is now working for his Ph. D. at Johns Hopkins.

Another new professor, Mr. Herzer, is teaching one of the courses on Medieval History as well as Advanced English. He received his A. B. degree at St. Johns College, Annapolis, where he majored in History.

After graduation, he went to the Harvard University Graduate School of Literature and Art where he studied English and American History. He also received his Master's degree in English there.

A war veteran, Mr. Higinbotham, of the class of '36 of Loyola College, will teach freshman mathematics.

Father Hubbard's Report...

of instruction, the German soldier brought another man with him, saying 'My buddy likewise wishes to become a Catholic and may he join us?'

"In conversation among the three, on one occasion, Father Steinmaier was asked if he thought Germany would win the war. He answered, 'No, not with America in it'.

"The next day he was hailed before the court and the two young soldiers, who had hypocritically professed a desire for the Catholic religion, appeared as the witnesses to denounce him to the judge as having spoken against the state. The German soldiers were Gestapo agents in disguise.

"Father Steinmaier was sentenced to death. His last words were: 'I die guiltless—without grief. I am closer to you from above than I have been formerly. We will see each other again by the Eternal Father. It is not the least bit difficult for me to die'.

Fr. Delp Beheaded

"Little Father Delp was just an average type student theologian. Perhaps, you would not expect lion-like courage from one of his physique, yet his behavior when sentenced to death for preaching against Nazi ideology was most heroic.

"When the judge, the notorious Friesling, passed the sentence, little Father Delp stood up and said:

"You are sentencing me to death unjustly. Soon you will appear before the Eternal Judge and he will sentence you and I will be at His side'.

"He was then taken into the court yard and beheaded. A strange sequel ensued almost immediately. A few days later, three to be exact, there was an air raid over Berlin during which this judge fled to a shelter where he was strangled to death. I bet little Father Delp was at the side of the Eternal Judge!

Jews And Jesuits Hated

"I heard at Munich that so bitter was the hatred of the Nazis against the Catholics and particularly the Jesuits that in their proclamations usually the two most hated peoples were mentioned together — 'Die

Juden und die Jesuiten', meaning the Jews and the Jesuits, because they were unassimilable in the Nazi scheme of things.

"To my edification I was told two or three hundred refugee Jews at a time were hidden in our Jesuit buildings in Munich, clothed, fed and cared for and assisted via the underground to safety in Switzerland and France.

Describes Destruction

"The destruction in Germany is beyond comparison. All I saw was rubble. At Frankfurt where I stayed some time, the beautiful Jesuit college there, was bombed beyond recognition.

"In coming into Austria, I began to see the full effect of destruction. The Tyrolennes particularly suffered martyrdom, because, being devout Catholics, they were constantly under the Nazi heel.

Jesuits In Dire Need

"Everywhere the story of suffering and hardship is the same with the Jesuits as in Germany and Austria. This includes Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia and other provinces because to the pangs of hunger have been added the equally distressing discomfort of cold.

"In my observation of Jesuits in Europe, I find they need vital foods, medicines and clothing. Economics and industry are non-existent in Central Europe. Even books and ordinary little considerations like ink and other means of transmission of written thought are lacking.

"We must recognize that they are people that have lost everything and can obtain practically nothing in their surroundings. They depend upon us to get them on their feet again and they will nobly carry on to raise Europe from pagan ideology and chaos to a world of mercy, charity and justice."

Loyola Humbles Gallaudet, 51-33

Loyola's towering quintet registered its eighth consecutive win and ninth conference victory by jolting the Silents of Gallaudet College, 51 to 33, at Evergreen on January 30.

Hounds Start Slow

Starting slow, the Green and Gray failed to tally until the five minute mark at which time George Bardelman broke away and sank a lay up shot to put the Hounds in the game. Barthelme, Feeley and Roche then followed in quick order with two pointers to put Loyola permanently ahead. At the intermission mark, the count was 28 to 15.

During the second half, Neill Cole warmed and contributed eight points to the tally, making three one handed set shots and two charity tosses.

Barthelme Scores 17

Barthelme again captured scoring honors with 17 points, 14 of which were scored in the first half. High man for the Silents was Cuscaden who chalked up 12 markers.

Hounds End Strong; Top Sho'men 52-39

Loyola's speedy quintet swept from a 24-12 half time disadvantage to take the measure of Washington College by a 52-39 margin in a Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tilt on the latter's floor on January 26.

At the ten minute mark, the Sho'men enjoyed a 17-2 lead, forcing the Hounds to surge in the final period.

The Greyhound offense was sparked by Bardelman, Cole and Roche with 14, 13, and 12 points respectively, while consolation scoring laurels were gained by Jim Rook with 15 points.

Greyhounds Bump Hoyas, 48-41; Barthelme Stars In Upset Win

Revenge was sweet for Loyola College's cagers as the inspired Greyhounds streaked to a 48-41 victory over Georgetown University's revamped Hoyas on January 21 in the Catholic U. Gym in Washington.

It was the same Hoyas, minus a few players who have since strengthened the Hilltopper cause, who blotted Loyola's first home game of the season by a 57-46 score.

This time it was Loyola beating Georgetown in its own back yard.

Loyola Leads Throughout

The Hoyas never recovered from a stunning lead piled up by the Hounds. Scoring the first basket of the game, and maintaining their lead throughout the tilt, the Green and Gray romped to a 28-20 margin as the gun barked the end of the first chapter.

Once during the first half, Loyola took a twelve point lead to hoist the offensive burden on the shoulders of the bewildered Hilltoppers.

Georgetown Resolved

Georgetown returned from the dressing room for the second half resolved to do or die.

For the first ten minutes of the second canto, the two teams traded baskets on an even basis. Then the Hounds began to sing the cords with a barrage of baskets that put them ahead by a comfortable twelve points.

Vainly striving to catch the racing Hounds, player-coach Ken Engles and teammate Paul Durkin looped in several long set shots to bring the Hoyas within seven points of their rivals, but here the time-keeper's whistle ended the fray with the Hounds ahead 48-41.

Running With The Hounds

by Charles Schmidt

Loyola's return to the wrestling wars on January 30 proved to be a great success, and although the Green and Gray matmen dropped their first match to Gallaudet College, they lacked only experience to turn the defeat into a lop-sided victory.

Hector DiNardo, Leonard Seims and Phil Lohrey won handily in their respective classes, and can be counted on again to dispose of their opponents in future meets.

Both Frank Griffin, 155 lbs., and Franny Meagher, 165 lbs., appeared to be better wrestlers than their respective opponents, and after having gained the advantage in the first period, fell victims to experienced grapplers. With the experience gained in this match, both can be expected to come out on top in future matches.

Pete Starling's first defeat in his wrestling career was due to a head cold which interfered greatly with his breathing.

Special credit must be given to Terry Fay, 121 lbs., and Bill Shea, 135 lbs. Both consented to enter the meet on only 24 hour notice. Fay agreed to wrestle after Johnny Mercaldo cracked a rib the day before the contest, and Shea agreed to perform after Len Seims failed to lose enough weight to wrestle in the 135 lbs. class. Neither Fay nor Shea had any previous wrestling experience.

On the strength of this performance, Loyola can be counted on to top Hopkins on February 22, and to cop the M-D Tournament on March 9.

The Hounds missed their biggest opportunity of the year when they dropped their second game to the Eagles of American University by the score of 54-49. Had they won, they could have taken over first place in the Conference.

Actually, they lost the game in the first ten minutes when they started off with a zone defense, which proved so effective in the first tilt. The Eagles had evidently been practicing against such a defense, and penetrated it superbly as they rolled up a 14-4 lead early in the game.

The Hounds changed to a man for man defense, but the damage had been done.

The Eagles, in Love, Lindeman, Poston, Pizza and Smith, had one of the deadliest teams on set shots seen on the Evergreen floor for a long time.

Loyola can still capture top honors for the year by taking the crown in the Mason-Dixon Tournament to be conducted at Evergreen on February 28, March 1 and 2.

In this tournament, the first eight teams in the conference battle it out for the post season laurels.

American University, Loyola, Hopkins, Washington, Gallaudet, Catholic University, Randolph Macon and Western Maryland will probably take part in the event. Delaware and Mount Saint Mary's will be left out.

The teams to watch in this tournament besides American University and Loyola, are Western Maryland and Randolph Macon. They are powerful quints and can upset the dope by advancing to the finals.

Hustlers Quint Join Nuggets In Two Wins

Playing some of the flashiest basketball ever seen at Loyola, intramural basketball fives began hostilities on Monday, January 28, with lunch-time contests in the Gym. The Hustlers beat the Hot Shots, 19-17, and downed Fay's Flagellates, 21-2; Nugent's Nuggets tripped the Second Raters, 19-9, and the Sloppy Seniors, 26-17, while the star-studded Knickerbocker's Knockers fell before Fay's Flagellates, 8-7, and bowed to the Sloppy Seniors, 39-4.

Eagles Vanquish Loyola By 54-49

Sparked by towering Bob Lindeman and set shot artist Ray Love, the Eagles of American University handed the Greyhounds their second conference loss of the season on Tuesday, February 5 by a score of 54-49.

Eagles Start Fast

With deadly accuracy, the Eagles penetrated the Hounds' zone defense and raced to a 15-4 lead midway through the first period before Loyola changed to a man for man defense.

Under the new defense, the Hounds' attack began to roll and by half time they trailed by 27-20.

American U. Surges Ahead

Loyola fought back hard in the second chapter, and after Saltysiak and Bardelman dropped in two-pointers, while Love and Poston did the same, Roche arched one in from mid court to close the gap at 31-26.

With Love, Lindeman and Pizza sinking long set shots, American U. then increased its lead to a commanding 44-30 count. Here the Hounds leaped but not high enough to catch the soaring Eagles.

Greyhound Grapplers Condition For Hopkins; Bow To Gallaudet

Having dropped their initial match to Gallaudet by a score of 25-15, Loyola's grunt 'n growlers prepare to grapple the matmen from Johns Hopkins University on February 22 at 6:30 p. m. Loyola will also send representatives to the Mason-Dixon Tournament at Hopkins on March 9.

Both teams have lost one match, Hopkins having been defeated by the University of Virginia in January, and so appear well balanced to produce some lively wrestling.

Eight Falls Scored

Falls were scored in every weight division in the Gallaudet match on January 30. In the 121-lb. bracket Dee Kirkpatrick disposed of inexperienced Terry Fay at 1:22 to send the Silents off to a 5-0 lead.

Hector DiNardo came back at 7:40 with a fall over Paul Snyder in the 128-lb. class to tie the score at five all.

Seims Fells Kubis Twice

After Yates, of Gallaudet, felled Shea at 3:30 in the 135-lb. class, to put Gallaudet back in the lead, Seims, Loyola's 145-lb. grappler pinned Kubis at 4:30 and again at 1:02 in an extra round to knot the count at 10-10.

Gallaudet then scored three falls in the 155, 165 and 175 lb. divisions as Griffin, Meagher and Starlings were defeated.

Seek Revenge For First Loss

Loyola will field a much more experienced team against the Explorers of LaSalle College tomorrow night at 8:45 p. m. than faced the same Explorers in Philadelphia on November 28. La Salle won that tilt, the first of the year for the Hound quint, by the slim margin of 45-42, and the Greyhounds will be out to even the count.

Loyola Record Envious

Since that first game, Loyola's quint has improved greatly and built up an envious record of 15 victories in 20 outings. La Salle, against some stiffer opposition, has won only seven of fourteen tilts.

Against the only mutual opponent, Catholic University of Washington, both teams fared evenly. La Salle won its test with the Cardinals by the count of 54-37, and the Hounds came out on top twice, 37-23 and 42-34.

Defense Weaker Than Offense

Coach Joe Meehan of the Explorers has built his team around a fast breaking offense which has rolled up a 52.4 average in its fourteen tilts. The opposition against this, however, has racked up an average of 55.4 points per tilt.

Walters Stars

The brunt of the Explorers' attack is carried by their star forward, Bobby Walters who disturbed the netting for 19 points in the tilt in Philly. He is ably assisted by Joe McGuire at the other forward, Jack Frieberg at center and Les Brutshea and Jack Crawford at the guards.

Hounds Will Use Zone

Against the fast break of the Explorers, Coach Reitz will probably use a zone defense, and place his attack on the shoulders of Al Barthelme—the state's high scorer, Sid Roche—Loyola's iceman, George Bardelman—diminutive guard, Paul Feeley—southpaw hustler, and Bernie Saltysiak—rebound artist.

Acheson Talks On British Loan

Dean Acheson, Under-Secretary of State, gave a brief address on the proposed British loan, Friday, February 1, at Goucher College. The talk was sponsored by the United Nations Association of Maryland.

Mr. Acheson vigorously refuted any claims that the loan will enable Great Britain to make inroads upon the foreign trade of the United States.

He maintained that the loan was not only necessary to prevent any form of discrimination against American trade in the British Empire countries but also that the loan was necessary to enable Great Britain to remain an important factor in world trade. Mr. Acheson reminded the audience that, contrary to popular conceptions, Great Britain has always been our best customer in the world market.

Five delegates from Loyola's IRC attended the meeting.

Student Council Proposes Audit Of Class Books

"Every class and club shall be compelled to keep a simplified system of financial books which shall be open to the Accounting Department of the Dance Committee for auditing at any time." This was the motion passed by a unanimous vote of the Student Council on Tuesday, January 29.

Dance Committee Formed

This motion resulted from a prior commitment of the Council that a dance committee should be formed, the purpose of which was to offer advice on the management of student sponsored ventures, such as dances, socials and the Yearbook.

Members of the committee are: Mannes F. Greenberg, chairman; E. Paul Coffay, Robert E. Hiltz, Edward C. Barrett and Edward M. Rehak. Outside of the actual auditing, the committee's functions are purely advisory.

Will Make Suggestions

In advising for social affairs, the committee will provide suggestions concerning laundry facilities, possible orchestras, extra help and other details.

Further, it will include an advertising section which will advise on methods of publicity and will keep an up-to-date social register of Alumni who have patronized former dances and socials.

Five Cents Extra Tax

To help pay for better lighting effects and other improvements in the Gym for dances, the Council passed a motion to add an additional five cents tax to the original tax of five cents on each ticket sold.

The Accounting Club, which is to handle the auditing of all books, is now working with the moderator of the committee, Mr. Rudolph A. Doering, S. J., on a system of book-keeping to be used by all classes and clubs to help them keep their books uniform and facilitate the job of auditing.

"This auditing has been introduced merely to achieve systematic organization, to prevent mismanagement and to protect the student body," said the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola College.

will be published. We plan to have as complete a directory as we can by Fall.

"We would also like to publish an annual directory revising our original effort. This would probably be mimeographed and would present, in the main, the information on our files about each Alumnus."

Will Catalogue Groups

In line with the work of the Physicians' Group and The Loyola Law Club of the Alumni Association, the office will compile complete files on professional groups such as Alumni scientists, dentists, journalists, insurance men and teachers. Any group, then, which desires these lists, can come to the Alumni office and get the requested information.

The Office will be ready to receive information about new addresses, occupations of Alumni, notices of weddings and births, etc., all of which will be filed and used in the columns of THE GREYHOUND.

To Contact Alumni Members

Besides receiving information, the office will keep in constant contact with members of the Alumni Association, thus facilitating class reunions and group meetings.

All these projects, discussed at previous meetings of the Executive Committee, were formally proposed to all the members on February 7.

Dr. Doehler was graduated from Loyola in 1930, the winner of more than a dozen medals and awards and a fellowship to Georgetown University, where he earned his Master's degree.

Won Alumni Medal in '42

He returned to Loyola as a teacher of History in 1931 and then went back to Georgetown for his doctorate in Medieval History.

Since 1935 he has been Chairman of the Department of History at Loyola. He was elected Financial Secretary of the Alumni Association in 1941 and a year later was acclaimed winner of the Alumni Medal.

Miss Ferree Notre Dame Grad

Miss Audrey Ferree, the permanent secretary, is a graduate of Notre Dame of Maryland High School. She has studied Business and Secretarial Methods at Strayer College.

Concluded President Sodaro, "Alumni support of activities will make possible the continuation of the Alumni Office. The Alumni themselves are the actual contributors".
